

Sculptra

Tess Craig, 41 from London

“The results are fantastic and I would recommend this treatment to anyone thinking about it.”

I've recently lost some weight and it had quite a dramatic effect on my looks. I didn't want to look drawn and haggard and I worried that the weight loss would make my cheeks sink even further. I'd read about a few treatments that might help and decided upon Sculptra, which is a type of dermal filler injected into the cheeks.

It's designed to plump up cheeks, giving them more definition. I wanted to recreate that youthful bloom I had ten years ago.

I had three treatments over a month and the change was gradual. The staff at Transform put me right at ease and answered all the queries that I had.

The results are fantastic and I would recommend this treatment to anyone thinking about it. Friends and family have commented on how well I've been looking and I now feel much happier with my appearance.
